

Write a poem about something silly or gross.

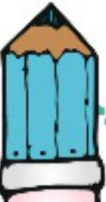

Pretend you are your cat or dog. Write about your family from their perspective.

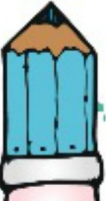

Pretend you are a rain drop. Write about your journey.

Write about a time someone did something nice for you.

Write about someone or something you are thankful for.

Write the lyrics to a song. Now rewrite them with synonyms & then antonyms.

Name three things that you couldn't live without. (besides food and water)

Write a letter to your parents persuading them to let you do something